

At Rockburn Elementary, we believe that a student is as successful as the environment that supports him/her. That's why we're proud to be a PBIS school, focusing on:

Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports

Key Elements:

- The entire school has a unified agenda for behavioral prevention and positive reinforcement.
- All staff members have received training and support.
- For students, there is a continuum of procedures to teach and encourage positive behaviors.
- There is also a continuum of procedures to discourage inappropriate behaviors.
- School-wide and team incentive programs are in place.

Supporting 2016-2017 Theme

We are building on our GROWTH theme from last year. This year we will Keep Growing with GRIT. Your child has learned about GRIT this week.

3 Rs at Recess:

Recess can be a challenging time at any school. We have proactively discussed how recess time should look and sound with the 3Rs.

Students know that in order to have fun, they must make safe choices and adhere to the expectations, whistle cues, and clean up/line up procedures.

*Tag/Chase games are not allowed*

Schoolwide Expectations

- R espectful
- R esponsible
- R eady

3 Rs in the Classroom:

Throughout the year, classroom teachers spend time instructing, reinforcing, and revisiting our Code of Conduct so that each student is clear on how to stay "ON TRACK" at Rockburn. They role play how the 3Rs should look and sound in the classroom, hallways, bathrooms, bus, and recess areas. Specific rules are posted in these various areas.

Classroom Track

PBIS Incentives/Initiatives:

On Track System: To encourage each student to perform well individually, each student received a magnet to be placed on a circular track in the classroom. As a student is caught showing solid effort with participation and performance, he/she will be instructed to "move ahead on the track." Special spaces will earn a green ticket, which can be traded in later for various prizes and/or special privileges. The related arts teachers will also be issuing "move up cards" for the track back in homeroom.

Today I will be the best kind of me, with character, friendships, and learning.

Each day I can find that the 3R choice is mine, and POSITIVES I can be earning."

Green Tickets:

Tickets are earned/issued schoolwide and can be traded in for prizes/opportunities. Since there is a big range between a kindergarten and fifth grade student's desires, the trade-in schedule and incentives vary by team. Each teacher has a supply of green tickets and are looking to hand them out for Respectful, Responsible, Ready behavior in the hallways and during transitions.

BIG Green Tickets:

Special tickets will be awarded monthly, highlighting students who excel with positive behavior and/or performance in the cafeteria and related arts classes. With parent consent, these students will have their photo included in broadcasts for all to see and celebrate!

Announcements:

Each day, the students hear 3R/character tips called Caring Messages. Topics focus on strategies for acting with courage, including everyone, being honest, being unique, listening to others, and more.

Ranger Club:

This is a time at the end of each month for teams to review the 3Rs and discuss the upcoming monthly character trait. Grade levels come together to address, celebrate and discuss progress with the 3Rs. Certificates are awarded to selected students who show the 3Rs and the character trait of the month.
